

Quad Meet Pushed To September

The Salt Creek Chapter of MAFCA will host the annual Quad Meet at Ty Warner Park in Westmont. The park is named for the multi-billionaire creator of the small, plush, stuffed animals called Beanie Babies. It is almost a sure thing that the reclusive bachelor WILL NOT join the old Ford set for chicken and lemonade at the Sunday, September 16th Model A happening.

But you can!

Salt Creek's invitation promises raffle prizes, door prizes, a 50/50 drawing, and the ever-popular (for folks who can readily get in and out of their Model A!) car games. The flier recommends that everyone bring along incidental treasures, Model A-related or otherwise, for the swap meet. Also, Quad Meeters are asked to bring a desert or fruit to share.

For planning, Salt Creek asks that the headcount plus the $12/per adult tab be submitted by August 30. A tally will be taken at the August 10 Club meeting.

(Note to Hollisters and Klimeks: Kids under age 8 are "free." Bring 'em and fill 'em up!)

New Binders

Bob's baby got new shoes ... and new hubs and new drums. The Fox Valley Chapter President had been sidelined for several Club drives due to inadequate stopping power and then by a pronounced pull. Now, after the "McMahon touch," the pretty Fordor is a reliable stopper. Since Carol and Bob usually take the "caboose" position on tours, all the folks who drive ahead of them should thank Bob for his "investment."

Authentic Swede

The big guy in the bowler hat tucked into the blue Model A Roadster may well have been the most genuinely Swedish item in Geneva's 58th annual Swedish Days Parade. Jack Anderson is the real deal. In fact, a sign posted in his driveway warns any non-Swedish visitors to find some other place to park. The sign was posted as a prank by a friend ... but Jack takes it seriously. Being Swedish is no joke!
